

RESULTS DRIVEN

This year's education results have entered the record books with all time high pass rates at levels one and two, and an impressive 44 candidates passing their Level Three examinations to become Diploma Holders with the right to use the DipGAI letters after their names. But here's a reminder to them all: don't forget to register as a Reg AI and start upon a process of CPD to maintain that status.

The results make for impressive reading:

Level One: 82% pass rate: up 3% on last year

Level Two: 83% pass rate: up 2% on last year

Level Three: Scheduling 40% and Business Studies 54% pass rate: in line with last year

Well done to all of you and the very best of luck as you move forward in your careers.

Special mention should be made to Neil Furness from Jackson Build Centre who is this year's Pinnacle Award winner. Neil has scored an impressive array of results in his GAI education career, finishing top at Level one and second in Level 2 and was top scheduler this year at level three, making him a fitting winner of this year's Pinnacle Award sponsored by Assa Abloy.

One thing which stands out from glancing through the lists of the most successful students is just how many of them have attended residential courses – both in-house and GAI-run. The vast majority of students who have achieved Distinction in their exams have attended these courses and all can attest to just how valuable they are.

Last year all three medal winners attended residential courses and weren't slow in singing their praises:

"The courses give a much better insight into what to expect in the exams, what the examiners are looking for and what level of knowledge they expect. It's also a great place to network and meet other people in the same boat as you."
Michael Rooney, 2007 Gold Medal Winner

"It was great to be able to interact with people from across the trade and gave me a much better understanding of the scheduling process,"
Chris Mills, 2007 Silver medal Winner

"The courses give you all the information you need, and if you apply it, then you'll do well."
Jason Healey, 2007 Bronze Medal Winner

This year, in answer to overwhelming demand from the trade, we have reverted back to the original format for residential courses: one 5-day course for each level. We have listened to member feedback and have reverted to the single block courses to reduce travel, hotel nights and days out of the office for students.

LET'S DO LUNCH

The newly qualified Diploma Holders will receive their certificates at the GAI Awards Lunch which will be held on Thursday 6 November at the Royal Garden Hotel, in Kensington, London. They will be presented by guest speaker Kriss Akabusi MBE, three times Olympic medallist, World, European and Commonwealth Champion at 400m. This occasion will also see the award of the Gold, Silver and Bronze medals to the leading year three students, plus the Pinnacle Award sponsored by Assa Abloy for the best student over the past three years.

The event has grown considerably over recent years with an unprecedented number of GAI members attending. Bookings can be made through the GAI website at www.gai.org.uk/news or by calling 0207 790 3431.

gary's view

Having had my first experience of the effort that goes into the organisation of the June examinations, marking, results analysis and announcements etc, I have been able to gain a much firmer appreciation of the Education Programme and its importance to the AI industry.

The care, professionalism and organisation that goes into the Programme is of a high standard and the GAI can be justifiably proud of the service it provides to the development of the students, member companies and the industry as a whole.

Another impressive feature is the army of volunteers who contribute so significantly to the success of the Programme. There are far too many to mention but sincere thanks are extended to all who take part. This includes members of the Education Committee, Examination Sub Committee, tutors, markers, invigilators and those who contribute to the content.

A lot of hard work goes into the management of the Programme and although the processes involved produce the result at the end of the day, my experience has highlighted a number of operational areas where I believe we can, and should, get smarter.

Presently the Programme is heavily reliant on the movement of paper. This is time consuming and labour intensive, bringing attendant costs. We need to look for efficiency measures which do not compromise the standards.

One example, that many will be aware of, is the determination to develop an on-line environment in which the Programme can operate. This project began a year or two ago and has taken time to come to fruition. However we now have a plan in place which will see the introduction of on-line testing for Level 1 students from September 2009.

We reward the success of this year's students at the Education Awards Lunch on 6 November. I look forward to the celebration.
